

CASEY MAKES GREAT SHOOTING RECORD

His Long Range Work Was Remarkable and Has Never Been Equaled Before.

CAMP PERRY, OHIO, August 18.—What is said to have been the most extraordinary long range rifle shoot ever seen in America, was accomplished today by Captain K. V. Casey of the First Delaware, in the Leach and Wimbledon cup matches, both of which he won by record-breaking scores. In the Leach match presented by Captain Leach, of the Irish team, which visited New York in 1874, a match at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards, Casey scored 104 out of a possible 105. In the Wimbledon 1,000-yard match this afternoon he scored 99, beating the match record of 91, made by Captain Richard of Ohio, in 1902. Casey won the Wimbledon here last year by the score of 88 under very unfavorable conditions.

In the Leach match, Private Minervini, of the Fourth New Jersey, was second, and Captain S. W. Wise, of Massachusetts, third, at 98.

EMPRESS FAILING

Russian Court is Greatly Disturbed as to Her Health.

ST. PETERSBURG, August 18.—The health of the Empress is again causing anxiety at the Russian court. She appeared to be greatly benefited by the cruise in the Finnish Archipelago, but since her return there has been a recurrence of hysteria, and general weakness prevents her from walking, and sometimes even from standing. It is said, also, that she is mentally depressed.

The Empress was unable to attend the dinner and reception given in honor of Emperor Francis Joseph's birthday by Emperor Nicholas to-night at the imperial pavilion at Kranskyok, where the grand manoeuvres are being held.

The anniversary of the birthday of the Austrian Emperor was celebrated impressively in St. Petersburg, where Francis Joseph is deservedly popular because of his age and the fact that he has shown to Russia, Mass at the Austrian embassy this morning was attended by M. Iswolsky, the foreign minister, and other ministers and diplomats. Emperor Nicholas sent a personal message of felicitation to the Emperor at Vienna.

AGED ORATOR A FIGHTER, TOO.

SUNBURY, PA., August 18.—B. Boyer, the oldest lawyer in Northumberland county, who recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his admission to the bar, was arrested here yesterday charged with assault upon Constable W. Lyndel, a veteran of the Civil War, and the policeman in charge of Cameron Park. Yesterday afternoon while Mr. Boyer was speaking emphatically to a large number of haters in the park, the constable told him he was disturbing the peace of the Sabbath. In anger he knocked the policeman down and as he arose felled him again by a heavy blow on the forehead with his gold-headed cane. He gave bail for his appearance at court.

MARRIED WOMEN

Every woman covets a shapely figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this liniment prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend makes the danger of child-birth less, and carries her safely through this critical period. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this remedy. NEW SKIN REMEDY.

Creates Big Stir; Drug Stores Crowded With Sufferers.

For several weeks past Tragle's and other leading drug stores in this city have been crowded with persons desiring a supply of psolam, the new cure for eczema. This is the drug which has created such a stir throughout the country since its discovery, one year ago.

For the convenience of those who use psolam for pimples, blackheads, blotches, red nose, acne, herpes and other minor skin troubles, a special 50-cent package has been adopted, in addition to the regular two-dollar package which is now on sale at all leading drug stores.

In eczema cases, psolam stops the itching with first application and proceeds to heal, curing chronic cases in two weeks. In minor skin troubles, results show after an overnight application. For a free experimental sample, write direct to the Emergency Laboratory, 22 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York City.

MRS. HAINS IS SILENT

What Her Attitude Toward Her Husband Will Be Is Still Unknown.

NEW YORK, August 18.—A predominating figure in the Hains-Annis tragedy to-day was Mrs. Claudia Hains, the attractive young wife of Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., U. S. A., who on Saturday last shot and killed William E. Annis, an advertising manager, at the Bayside Club, while his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, prevented interference by holding a crowd at bay with his revolver.

What the attitude of Mrs. Hains will be is of paramount interest and importance to the lawyer for the Hains brothers and to the district attorney. Rumors were rife to-day that Mrs. Hains will drop her husband's defense, and that she will have a measure toward her husband and will take her place at his side when the trial comes.

However, these reports came from no authoritative source, and Mrs. Hains and her lawyers are silent as to her plans. Mrs. Hains, it is said, has returned to her home in Massachusetts. Her lawyer, Frederick T. Norton, of Boston, who came here to advise her, announced today that he will have a statement from her in a day or so, but he will not intimate what the statement will contain.

An evening newspaper quotes Mr. McIntyre as saying that insanity will be the defense. General Hains and his brother, Peter A. Hains, a lawyer, of Boston, who, it is believed, will be associated with counsel for the defense, visited the two prisoners in the Queen's county jail today. They remained for some time in consultation with the young men. Captain Hains and his brother still remain calm, and upon advice of counsel, refuse to make any statement regarding the tragedy.

"Temper of a Devil."

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 18.—The killing of William E. Annis by Captain Peter C. Hains has created much comment in Washington from the fact that the slayer's father, General Hains, is well known here, and the sons lived here for many years. Among those who take an active interest in the tragedy is Andrew A. Lipscomb, an attorney, who assisted in the prosecution of Thornton J. Hains for the killing of his chum, "Red" Hannegan, at Hampton, Va., in 1891. The jury acquitted Hains, but Mr. Lipscomb is still of the opinion that the acquittal was one of the most flagrant cases of miscarriage of justice in the history of criminal law.

"In my opinion," said Captain Lipscomb, "this man, Thornton Hains, is one of the most dangerous men I have ever known. He has the spirit and temper of a devil. His idea of duty toward men appears to be that he was created to rule. Do as I say or I will kill you." He said that he did not only with his friends and acquaintances, but with members of his own family.

More than ten days ago a civil engineer, once employed by the young man's father, General Hains, told him that he expected to be called as a witness in the prosecution of Hains for the killing of Hannegan, because it was not uncommon for the young man to threaten to kill his father. But he was not called as a witness, because the Virginia attorney who had charge of the case against Hains limited Senator Voorhees, who joined the prosecution out of friendship for Hannegan, and myself to the simple facts pertaining to the murder of Hannegan.

The facts seemed to need nothing of a collateral nature tending to show the violence of Hains's temper. How strong was made apparent by the fact that he imagined from the fact that the State produced two eyewitnesses of unimpeachable character to testify to the shooting.

"At the trial the prosecution attempted to show that Hains and Hannegan had quarreled on account of a woman, but there was so little evidence to support that theory that it was abandoned. In his closing argument I explained the killing on the theory of Hains's violent temper, and what I have read of his literary work since has only increased my conviction that he was a man of great strength of character."

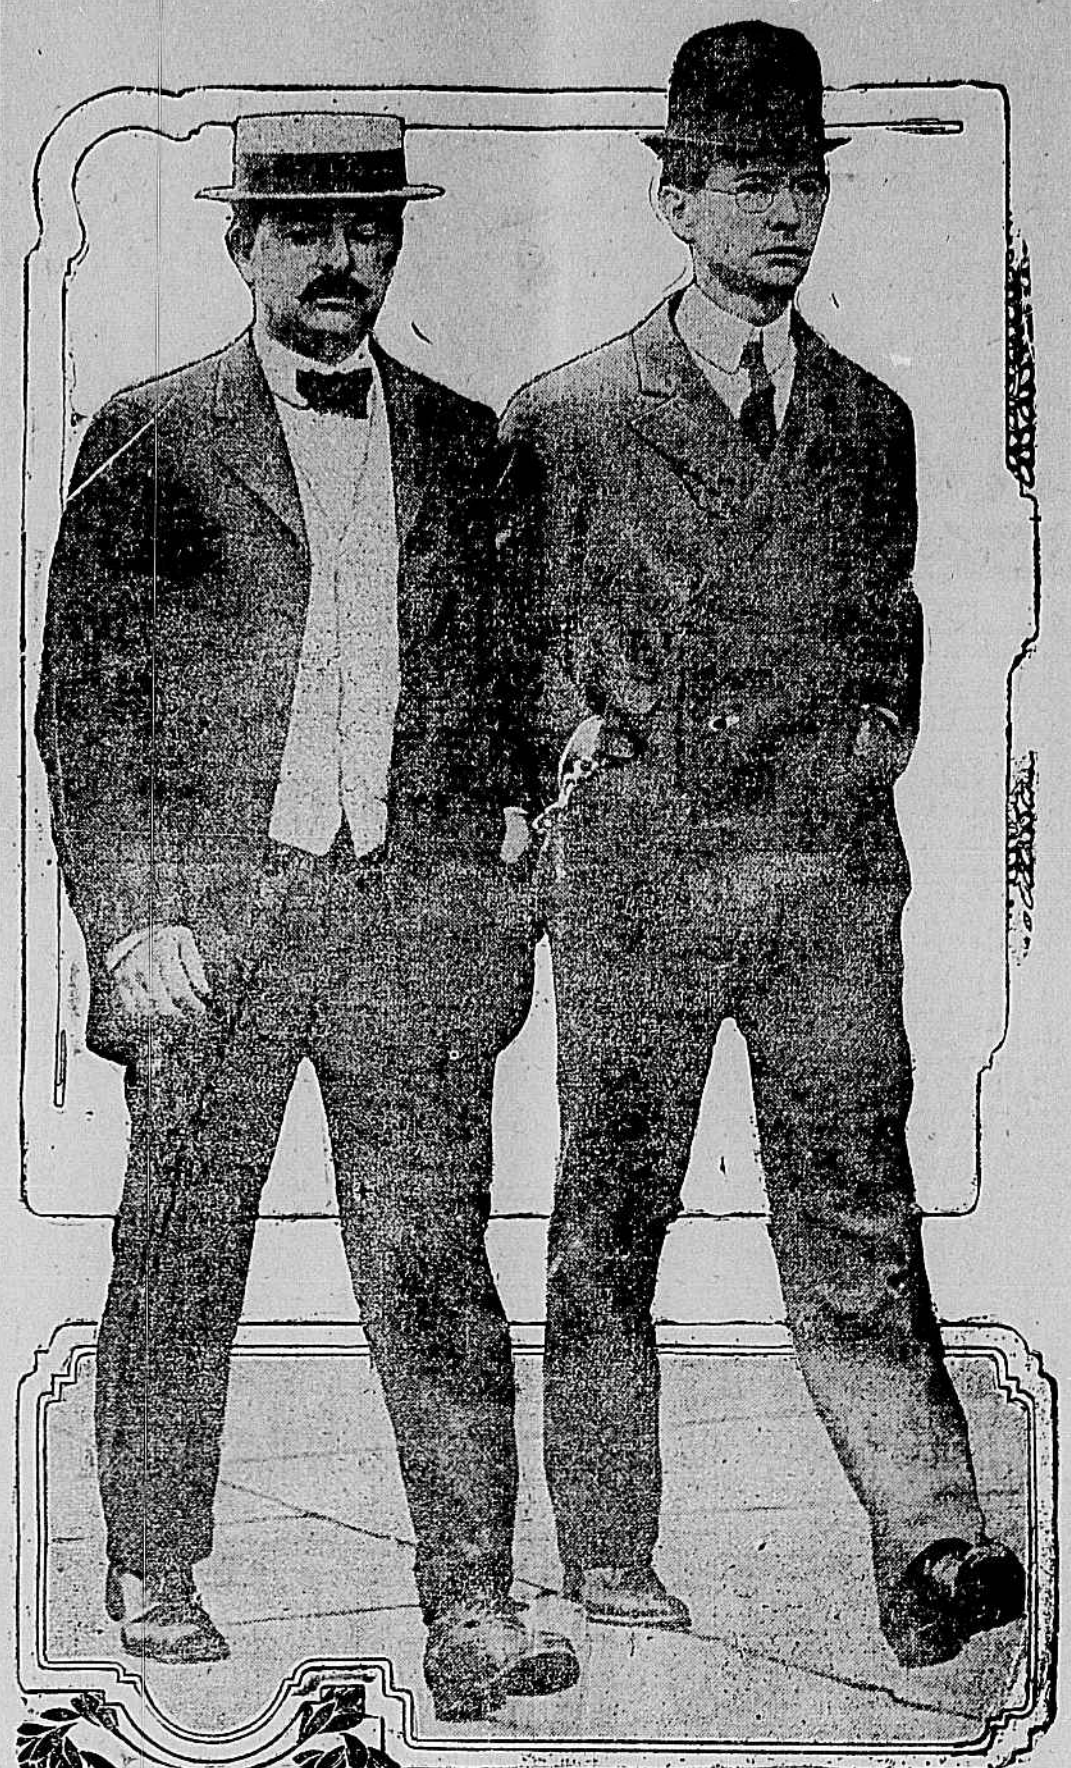

When Hains was placed on the stand in his own defense he testified that as he and Hannegan were nearing the Bayside Club, the wind died away, and as a storm was coming up, Hannegan became frightened and started the best for the shore. A quarrel ensued, and according to Hains, Hannegan raised the oar and advanced to strike him. Hains drew his revolver and shot him.

Guarded from Curious.

SANDY HOOK, N. J., August 18.—The commanding officer at Fort Hancock stationed a guard to-day at the entrance to the fort, to prevent the Hains brothers, who are being held for killing William E. Annis, from entering the fort.

WATERMELON CASE TO-DAY

Turner-Barnes Hearing Ordered by Henrico County Magistrate.

Having set for trial on August 19th, the case of "Bud" Turner, who has been an inmate of the City House since his arrest on charges of robbing a watermelon vendor, will be called to-day at 10 o'clock. Turner has been notified that he is expected to appear, and his physician stated yesterday that the alleged watermelon thief will be able to go to court, though he still has very serious wounds in the leg as a result of the shot fired by the negro farm hand who assisted Barnes.

Mr. Barnes was at the county courthouse yesterday and stated that he did not think it likely that the case would be tried this morning, as there are several witnesses for the Commonwealth who will probably not be able to attend.

During the trip a part of the deck was cleared for the dancers, and all were served with dainty refreshments, which went to make the occasion more pleasant and fill the coffers of the club.

Plain Talks on Fertilizers

Increasing and Safeguarding the Wheat-Crop

The use of commercial fertilizers on the wheat crop is yearly becoming more general—proof enough that it pays, and pays well.

Too many farmers, however, use fertilizers without due regard for the special needs of their soils. Often they buy the cheapest grades. Or they use very small quantities.

That such unscientific use of fertilizers has proved profitable indicates what it can accomplish for wheat growers if used more carefully and intelligently.

The best way to learn just what fertilizers will pay you best is to make comparative tests on a small scale with your soils—then use a sufficient amount and you will undoubtedly increase not only the average yields, but your profits as well.

Write to the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company for its new Year Book or Almanac, a costly 180 page book, written by government and private experts. It shows how and why you can increase your crops three or four fold by following modern agricultural methods.

SAVED FROM PENITENTIARY

Three Young Men Convicted in Chesterfield of Stealing Railroad Brasses.

John Sanderson, Leslie Matland and Dickinson Frego, all young white men, were held in the Chesterfield Courthouse yesterday on a charge of stealing brasses from the Southern Railway. Sanderson and Frego put in their appearance, and each was sentenced to thirty days in jail and fined $10. Matland failed to appear, and his bail bond of $250 was forfeited.

Henry A. Muller, a young boy, who was arrested on the same charge, was sent to the Reformatory.

The theft of the brasses occurred last January, and Special Agent J. C. Seagle was detailed on the case. On account of their youth the charge was reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor, and in this way the accused were saved from the penitentiary.
